Hurttä Urban Classics Collection celebrates dogs' individuality

Spectacular Hurttä Leather Classics has reborn. This, already a classic collection is a dog owner's treasure due to high quality materials, such as luxurious feeling leather, various metals components and high quality cotton as supportive material. Finishing touches are often made by hand.

"Classic product is born with high quality materials, skillful workmanship and ageless design", says Kati Rissanen, brand manager of Hurttä, "good quality is durable and this way also ecological." Hurttä Leather products age beautifully and natural wear and tear only adds to the product's charisma.

The high quality Hurttä Urban Classics leather range is designed for year-round use in every stage of pet's life. The Leather range contains products for dogs of all sizes and regardless of coat type or situation.

These classic leather products are made with high-quality materials, such as durable grease leather, soft garment leather and quality metal components and professional skills and timeless style.
